Part I: Introduction

Why Quality Evaluation is Important

Principal evaluation matters because principals matter. Simply put, high-quality schools are characterized by high-quality principals. Research consistently has revealed that school leadership has an important impact on student achievement gains or progress over years, and among school factors, is second only to that of teacher quality. In addition to its impact on student achievement, research also indicates that effective school leadership has significant positive effects on student attendance, student engagement with school, student academic self-efficacy, staff satisfaction, and collective teacher efficacy.

Evaluation systems must be of high quality if we are to discern whether our principals are of high quality. The role of a principal requires a performance evaluation system that acknowledges the depth and complexities of the job. Principals have a challenging task in meeting the needs of an educationally diverse student population, and good evaluation is necessary to provide principals with the support, recognition, and guidance they need to sustain and improve their efforts.

Because principals are so fundamentally important to school improvement and student success, improving the evaluation of principal performance is particularly relevant as a means to recognize excellence in leadership and to advance principal effectiveness. The benefits of a rigorous, fair, and data-informed evaluation system are numerous and well documented. A meaningful evaluation focuses on professional standards, and through this focus and timely feedback, leaders can recognize, appreciate, value, and develop excellent leadership. Goldring and colleagues noted that when the process of evaluation is designed and implemented appropriately, it can be valuable for improvement of leadership quality and overall organizational performance in several ways, including:

- as a benchmarking and assessing tool to document the effectiveness of principals for annual reviews and compensation;
- as a targeting tool to help principals focus on performance domains and behaviors that are associated with student learning;
- as a tool of continuous learning and development to provide both formative and summative feedback to principals, identify areas in need of improvement, and enable principals to make informed individualized decisions regarding professional development in order to bridge the gap between current practices and desired performance; and
- as a collective accountability tool to set the organizational goals and objectives of the school leader and larger schoolwide improvement.

The evaluation process should be a tool to identify and promote strengths.

Importance of Recognizing Principal Effectiveness

Characterizing principal effectiveness is important because there is a substantial relationship between the quality of the principal and student achievement. Principal leadership plays an important role in coordinating curriculum, improving instructional programs, staffing instructional programs, supervising and evaluating teaching, monitoring student learning, and buffering staff from interruptions to their work. As noted earlier in this document, school leadership is the second most influential school-level factor on student achievement, falling only behind teacher quality. Research has shown over the years that the effectiveness of a principal can add a significant boost to student performance and may account for up to 15 percent of the overall school effect on student achievement. A meta-analysis of research covering 30 years on the effects of principal leadership practices on student achievement conducted by Waters, Marzano, and McNulty revealed that the effectiveness of a school's leadership is significantly associated with increased student academic performance. For instance, several leader behaviors related to school vision, including establishing clear goals and fostering shared beliefs, were associated with student learning. They found the average effect size between leadership and student achievement to be 0.25. That means a one standard deviation improvement in leadership effectiveness can translate into an increase of about ten percentile points in student achievement on a standardized, norm-referenced test. More recently a pair of studies conducted by Dhuey & Smith in both the United States and Canada found that improving the effectiveness of the principal by one standard deviation would result in student gains of five percentile points and 11 percentile points in reading and seven percentile points and 16 percentile points in math, respectively. In summary, it is important to recognize that effective principals influence student learning, either directly or indirectly. It also is important to understand the ways and means by which principals influence their schools' educational programs, family engagement, and community partnerships. Therefore, a rigorous principal evaluation system should be able to discriminate the performance of principals and provide informative feedback for improvement and recognition of strengths.

Purposes of Evaluation

The primary purposes of a quality principal evaluation system are to:

- optimize student learning and growth;
- contribute to the successful achievement of the goals and objectives defined in the vision, mission, and goals of the school division;
- provide a basis for leadership improvement through productive principal performance appraisal and professional growth; and
- implement a performance evaluation system that promotes collaboration between the principal and evaluator and promotes self-growth, leadership effectiveness, and improvement of overall job performance.

A high quality evaluation system includes the following distinguishing characteristics:

- benchmark behaviors for each of the principal performance standards;
- a focus on the relationship between principal performance and improved student learning and growth;
- the use of multiple data sources for documenting performance, including opportunities for principals to present evidence of their own performance as well as student growth;
- a procedure for conducting performance reviews that stresses accountability, promotes professional improvement, and increases principals' involvement in the evaluation process; and
- a support system for providing assistance when needed.

Purposes of this Document

This document was developed specifically for use with school principals and assistant principals. For the purpose of this document, the term principal will be used to reference both principals and assistant principals. The Board of Education is required to establish performance standards and evaluation criteria for teachers, principals, and superintendents to serve as guidelines for school divisions to use in implementing educator evaluation systems.

The Code of Virginia requires (1) that principal evaluations be consistent with the performance standards set forth in the Board of Education's Guidelines for Uniform Performance Standards and Evaluation Criteria for Teachers, Principals, and Superintendents and (2) that school boards' procedures for evaluating principals and assistant principals address student academic progress.

The Code of Virginia requires (1) that principal evaluations be consistent with the performance standards set forth in the Board of Education's Guidelines for Uniform Performance Standards and Evaluation Criteria for Teachers, Principals, and Superintendents and (2) that school boards' procedures for evaluating principals and assistant principals address student academic progress.

Section 22.1-253.13:5. Standard 5. Quality of classroom instruction and educational leadership of the Code of Virginia states, in part, the following:

- B. Consistent with the finding that leadership is essential for the advancement of public education in the Commonwealth, teacher, administrator, and superintendent evaluations shall be consistent with the performance standards included in the Guidelines for Uniform Performance Standards and Evaluation Criteria for Teachers, Principals, and Superintendents. Evaluations shall include student academic progress as a significant component and an overall summative rating. Teacher evaluations shall include regular observation and evidence that instruction is aligned with the school's curriculum. Evaluations shall include identification of areas of individual strengths and weaknesses and recommendations for appropriate professional activities. Evaluations shall include an evaluation of cultural competency.

Section 22.1-294. {Probationary terms of service for principals, assistant principals and supervisors; evaluation; reassigning principal, assistant principal or supervisor to teaching position} states, in part, the following:

- B. Each local school board shall adopt for use by the division superintendent clearly defined criteria for a performance evaluation process for principals, assistant principals, and supervisors that are consistent with the performance objectives set forth in the Guidelines for Uniform Performance Standards and Evaluation Criteria for Teachers, Principals, and Superintendents as provided in § 22.1-253.13:5 and that includes, among other things, an assessment of such administrators' skills and knowledge; student academic progress [emphasis added] and school gains in student learning; and effectiveness in addressing school safety and enforcing student discipline. The division superintendent shall implement such performance evaluation process in making employment recommendations to the school board pursuant to § 22.1-293....

The Guidelines for Uniform Performance Standards and Evaluation Criteria for Principals set forth eight performance standards for all Virginia principals. Pursuant to state law, principal evaluations must be consistent with the performance standards (objectives) included in this document.

The Guidelines for Uniform Performance Standards and Evaluation Criteria for Principals originally approved on February 23, 2012, and subsequently revised on July 23, 2015 and January 10, 2020, provide school divisions with a model evaluation system, including sample forms and templates that may be implemented

“as is” or used to refine existing local principal evaluation systems. Properly implemented, the evaluation system provides school divisions with the information needed to support systems of differentiated compensations or performance-based pay.

The Code of Virginia requires that school boards’ procedures for evaluating principals must:

- be consistent with the performance standards set forth in the Guidelines for Uniform Performance Standards and Evaluation Criteria for Principals;
- include student academic progress as a significant component; and
- include an overall summative rating.

Part II: Uniform Performance Standards for Principals

The uniform performance standards for principals are used to collect and present data to document performance that is based on well-defined job expectations. They provide a balance between structure and flexibility and define common purposes and expectations, thereby guiding effective leadership. The performance standards also provide flexibility, encouraging creativity and individual principal initiative. The goal is to support the continuous growth and development of each principal by monitoring, analyzing, and applying pertinent data compiled within a system of meaningful feedback.

Defining Principal Performance Standards

Clearly defined professional responsibilities constitute the foundation of the principal performance standards. A fair and comprehensive evaluation system provides sufficient detail and accuracy so that both principals and evaluators (i.e., superintendent, supervisor) reasonably understand the job expectations.

The expectations for professional performance are defined using a two-tiered system consisting of eight performance standards and multiple performance indicators affiliated with each performance standard to define the expectations for principal performance. Principals will be rated on the performance standards using performance rubrics.

Performance Standards

Performance standards define the criteria expected when principals perform their major duties. For all principals, there are eight performance standards.

Instructional Leadership The principal drives the success of all students by facilitating the development, communication, implementation, and evaluation of a shared vision of teaching and learning that leads to student academic progress and school improvement.
School Climate The principal fosters the success of all students by developing, advocating, nurturing, and sustaining an academically rigorous, positive, welcoming, and safe school climate for all stakeholders.
Human Resources Management The principal provides human resources leadership by selecting, inducting, supporting, evaluating, and retaining quality instructional and support personnel.
Organizational Management The principal cultivates the success of all students by supporting, managing, and overseeing the school's organization, operation, and use of resources.
Communication and Community Relations The principal fosters the success of all students by communicating, collaborating, and engaging with family and community stakeholders to promote understanding and continuous improvement of the school's programs and services.
Culturally Responsive and Equitable School Leadership The principal demonstrates a commitment to equity and fosters culturally inclusive and responsive practices aligned with division and school goals, priorities, and strategies that support achievement for all students.
Professionalism The principal fosters the success of all students by demonstrating behavior consistent with legal, ethical, and professional standards, engaging in continuous professional development, and contributing to the profession.
Student Academic Progress The principal's leadership results in acceptable, measurable, and appropriate student academic progress based on established standards.

Performance Indicators

Performance indicators provide examples of observable, tangible behavior that indicate the degree to which principals are meeting each standard. This helps principals and their evaluators clarify performance levels and job expectations. That is, the performance indicators provide the answer to what must be performed. Performance indicators are provided as examples of the types of performance that will occur if a standard is being fulfilled. However, the list of performance indicators is not exhaustive, and they are not intended to be prescriptive. It should be noted that indicators in one standard may be closely related to indicators in another standard. This is because the standards, themselves, are not mutually exclusive and may have overlapping aspects.

Evaluators and principals should consult the sample performance indicators for clarification of what constitutes a specific performance standard. Performance ratings are made at the performance standard level, not at the performance indicator level. Additionally, it is important to document a principal's performance on each standard with evidence generated from multiple performance indicators. Sample performance indicators for each of the performance standards follow on the following pages.

Note: Performance Standard 8: If a principal effectively fulfills all previous standards, it is likely that the results of his or her leadership – as documented in Standard 8: Student Academic Progress – would be positive. The Virginia principal evaluation system includes the documentation of student growth as indicated within Standard 8 and recommends that the evidence of progress be reviewed and considered throughout the year. Trend analysis should be used where applicable.

Part III: Documenting Principal Performance

The role of a principal requires a performance evaluation system that acknowledges the contextual nature and complexities of the job. Multiple data sources provide for a comprehensive and authentic “performance portrait” of the principal’s work.

Data Source	Definition
Self-Evaluation	Self-evaluation reveals principals’ perceptions of their job performance. Results of a self-evaluation should inform principals’ personal goals for professional development.
Informal Observation/ School Site Visits	Informal observations/school site visits, applied in a variety of settings, provide information on a wide range of contributions made by principals. Informal observations/school site visits may range from watching how a principal interacts with others, to observing programs and shadowing the administrator.
Documentation Evidence	Documentation evidence includes items generated by principals as evidence of meeting the eight performance standards.
Teacher/Staff Survey	Climate surveys provide information to principals about perceptions of job performance. The actual survey responses are seen only by the principal who prepares a survey summary for inclusion in the portfolio/document log.
Goal Setting	Principals, in conjunction with their evaluators, set goals for professional growth and school improvement.

Note: All recommended data sources may not always be necessary in a principal evaluation system. Rather, options are provided from which local decisions can be made to design the evaluation system in a manner that best fits local needs.

To address the contextual nature of the principal’s job, each principal should provide a school profile narrative to his or her evaluator. This may be done via the Student Academic Progress Goal Setting Form. It is strongly recommended that the principal also discuss the unique characteristics of the school with the evaluator.

Self Evaluation

Self-evaluation is a process by which one may reflect on the effectiveness and adequacy of his or her performance, effects, knowledge, and beliefs for self-improvement. By thinking about what works, what does not work, and what types of changes one might make to be more successful, the likelihood of knowing how to improve and actually making the improvements increases dramatically. Furthermore, self-evaluation can help a principal to target areas for professional development.

Informal Observations/School Site Visits

Informal observations/school site visits, applied in a variety of settings, provide information on a wide range of contributions made by principals. Informal observations/school site visits may range from watching how a principal interacts with others to observing programs and shadowing the administrator. Site visits are a method by which evaluators may gain insight into whether principals are meeting the performance standards. Evaluators are encouraged to conduct multiple site visits to the principal's school. During a site visit, evaluators should discuss various aspects of the job with the principal. This can take the form of a formal interview or a less structured discussion. Through questioning, the evaluator may help the principal reflect on his or her performance, which may provide insight into how the principal is addressing the standards. Such a discussion may also help the principal to think through the artifacts he or she might submit to the evaluator to demonstrate proficiency in each standard. In addition, evaluators can use the principal's responses to the questions to determine issues they would like to further explore with the principal's faculty and staff. Furthermore, it is recognized that in many cases it takes time to effect change in a school, and by having an honest, open discussion, the principal is provided an opportunity to explain the successes and trials the school community has experienced in relation to school changes. The site visit also provides an opportunity for the evaluator to offer feedback. Following the site visit, evaluators should provide timely and written feedback to the principal.

Documentation Evidence

Artifacts of a principal's performance can serve as a valuable and insightful data source for documenting the work that principals actually do, how they support student growth, and how they contribute to their own professional growth and development.

Documentation provides evaluators with information related to specific standards and provides principals with an opportunity for self-reflection, demonstration of quality work, and a basis for two-way communication with their evaluators. Documentation can confirm a principal's effort to document exemplary performance, can show continuing work at a proficient level, or can demonstrate progress in response to a previously identified deficiency.

Artifacts should be authentic and not created solely as documentation evidence. They should provide evidence of one or more of the performance standards. Each artifact may include a caption since the artifact will be viewed in a context other than that for which it was developed. Principals may organize the material in any way they see fit; however, the emphasis should be on the quality of work, not the quantity of materials presented. One to three quality artifacts per standard are recommended.

Teacher/Staff Surveys

Surveys are an important data collection tool used to gather client (in this instance, teacher/staff) data regarding their perceptions of the principal's performance. Among the advantages of using a survey design include the rapid turnaround in data collection, the limited cost in gathering the data, and the ability to infer perceptions of a larger population from smaller groups of individuals. One of the benefits of using surveys is that the collected information may help the principal set goals for continuous improvement (i.e., for formative evaluation) – in other words, to provide feedback directly to the principal for professional growth and development.

Principals may administer annual teacher/staff surveys according to school division guidelines during a specified time period (for example, the second nine weeks). The principal will retain sole access to the teacher/staff surveys; however, the principal may provide a summary of the surveys to the evaluator as part of the documentation evidence.

The survey asks teachers/staff to report on items that they have directly experienced. The survey questions address the first seven performance standards. At the principal's discretion, additional questions may be added to the survey.

Portfolios and Document Logs

School divisions should consider a version of a portfolio or document log to best fit their needs. Artifacts of a principal's performance can serve as a valuable and insightful data source for documenting the work that principals actually do. These artifacts can be organized as portfolios or document logs as a formal aspect of the data collection system. Various school divisions call the principals' own documentation of their work by various names, but the purpose is essentially the same – to provide evidence of leadership excellence.

Documentation provides evaluators with information related to specific standards and provides principals with an opportunity for self-reflection, demonstration of quality work, and a basis for two-way communication with their evaluators. Documentation can confirm a principal's effort to document exemplary performance, can show continuing work at a proficient level, or can demonstrate progress in response to a previously identified deficiency. Artifacts are not created solely for a portfolio or document log, but are readily reviewed in portfolio/document log form. They should provide evidence of one or more of the performance standards. Each artifact may include a caption since the artifact will be viewed in a context other than that for which it was developed. Within that binder or folder, principals may organize the material in any way they see fit; however, the emphasis should be on the quality of work, not the quantity of materials presented.

Portfolios

The professional portfolio is an organized collection of work that demonstrates the educator's skills, talents, and accomplishments for the evaluation cycle. It contains a broader, more comprehensive collection of material than does a document log, and the selection of material to be included is often at the discretion of the principal. The portfolio provides an opportunity to demonstrate professional competence with regard to meeting performance standards and is therefore an important part of the evaluation process. Written analysis and reflection about artifacts should be included in the portfolio to provide insight into the rationale for the events and process documented in each entry. The portfolio is an official document that is maintained by the principal and reviewed periodically by the evaluator. It is the property of the principal and follows the principal when work assignments change. The division should provide the guidelines for the portfolio and may provide the physical notebook, cover, and dividers if it is to be submitted in hard copy.

Part IV: Connecting Principal Performance to Student Academic Progress

School leadership is the second most influential school-level factor on student achievement behind teacher quality. Research has shown the effectiveness of a principal can add an important and significant boost to student performance and accounts for 15 percent of the overall school effect on student achievement. Whereas a teacher's impact is generally direct, a school leader's impact on student achievement is primarily indirect by promoting of a vision and goals, influencing school conditions, affecting teacher quality and placement, driving instructional quality, and ensuring teachers have the resources available and processes in place to be successful. Principals are charged with supporting and accurately evaluating teachers, and in many cases, are directly responsible for selecting and retaining them. Therefore, an effective principal is an essential element in a successful school. And, in the converse, research has shown that ineffective principals can have a negative effect on teacher and student performance. Using measures of student academic progress to inform principal evaluation only makes sense because of the overarching influence that principals have on school success and student learning. Simply put, schools do not rise above the quality of their principals.

Virginia Law

Virginia law requires principals, assistant principals, and teachers to be evaluated using measures of student academic progress. Section 22.1-294 of the Code of Virginia (Probationary terms of service for principals, assistant principals and supervisors; evaluation; reassigning principal, assistant principal or supervisor to teaching position) states, in part, the following:

B. Each local school board shall adopt for use by the division superintendent clearly defined criteria for a performance evaluation process for principals, assistant principals, and supervisors that are consistent with the performance objectives set forth in the Guidelines for Uniform Performance Standards and Evaluation Criteria for Teachers, Administrators, and Superintendents as provided in § 22.1-253.13:5 and that includes, among other things, an assessment of such administrators' skills and knowledge; student academic progress [emphasis added] and school gains in student learning; and effectiveness in addressing school safety and enforcing student discipline. The division superintendent shall implement such performance evaluation process in making employment recommendations to the school board pursuant to § 22.1-293.

Methods for Connecting Student Performance to Principal Evaluation

The Uniform Performance Standards and Evaluation Criteria incorporate student academic progress as a significant component of the evaluation while encouraging local flexibility in implementation. The Code of Virginia requires that student academic progress be a significant component of the evaluation. How student academic progress is met is the responsibility of local school boards provided that Performance Standard 8: Student Academic Progress is not the least weighted of the performance standards or less than 1 (10 percent); however, it may be weighted equally as one of the multiple lowest weighted standards. There are three key points to consider in this model:

1. Student learning should be determined by multiple measures of student academic progress.

2. For elementary and middle school principals:
 - a. Progress (value) table data as provided from the Virginia Department of Education may be used when the data are available and can be used appropriately.
 - b. Student Academic Progress Goals with evidence that the alternative measure is valid may be used. Note: Whenever possible, it is recommended that the second progress measure be grounded in validated, quantitative, objective measures, using tools already available in the school. These should include improvement in achievement measures (e.g., Standards of Learning assessment results, state benchmarks) for the school.

3. For high school principals: The principal evaluation should be measured using Student Academic Progress Goals with evidence that the alternative measure is valid. These should include improvement in achievement measures (e.g., Standards of Learning assessment results, state benchmarks) for the school.

Principal	Application of Progress Table Data	Other Academic Progress Measures
Elementary School and Middle School	Progress table data*	Measures of student academic progress. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Quantitative measures already available in the school that are validated and provide measures of growth (as opposed to absolute achievement) should be given priority. Goal setting should incorporate data from valid achievement measures (e.g., SOL assessment results, state benchmarks) that focus on school improvement whenever possible.
High School	Not applicable	Measures of student academic progress other than the progress table data. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Quantitative measures already available in the school that are validated and provide measures of growth (as opposed to absolute achievement) should be given priority. However, school improvement in absolute achievement can be used as an indicator for overall student academic progress. Goal setting should incorporate data from valid achievement measures (e.g., SOL assessment results, state benchmarks) that focus on school improvement whenever possible.

Goal Setting

Effective principals place focus on school goals, including student achievement, by supporting, encouraging, and influencing others to accomplish the school's goals and objectives. To accomplish this, effective principals seek professional development on data analysis in order to monitor, compare, and evaluate data trends to interpret and use student achievement data to set target goals for student improvement. Setting goals – not just any goals, but goals set squarely on student performance – is a powerful way to enhance professional performance and, in turn, positively impact student academic progress. Student Academic Progress Goal Setting is designed to improve student learning.

In many cases, measures of student performance can be directly documented. A value-added or gain score approach can be summarized by comparing the Student Learning Beginning Score with the End Result.

Gain Score Equation

$$\begin{array}{l} \text{Student Learning End Result} \\ - \text{Student Learning Beginning Score} \\ \hline \text{Student Gain Score} \end{array}$$

Examples of Measures of Student Academic Progress

To be able to measure goal attainment, principals must identify valid measures of student academic progress appropriate to their school settings. Below are suggested focus areas for goal setting (not intended as an exhaustive list and each school division/school should determine valid measures that are appropriate for each unique school setting) that provide measures of student academic progress that focus on school improvement. Parentheses behind each measure indicate the school level to which the measure applies (elementary, secondary, or both).

- Decrease in the percentage of K-2 retentions by demonstrating more students are meeting or exceeding grade-level expectations
- Increase in the number/percent of students with disabilities meeting their Individualized Education Plan (IEP) goals
- Increase in the percentage of English Learners (ELs) making progress or proficiency on the English Language Proficiency assessment and increase the percentage of ELs achieving proficiency on English/reading and mathematics SOL assessments
- Pattern of improvement on formative assessments
- Pattern of increased percentage of first- through third-grade students reading on grade level
- Pattern of increased percentage of middle school students taking high school level courses
- Increase in examples of nonacademic core middle or high school classes or students receiving prestigious awards on a consistent basis (e.g., art, music, band, speech)
- Pattern of increased percentage of students who receive a high school diploma
- Increase in the number of students enrolled in college-level courses
- Pattern of increased number of students earning college credit while in high school
- Increase in the number/percentage of students in underperforming reporting groups who enroll in college-level courses in high school
- Increase in the number/percentage of students in underperforming reporting groups who earn college credit while in high school
- Increase in the number/percentage of students, particularly students from underperforming reporting groups, who enroll in and are successful taking Algebra I by eighth grade
- Decrease in the percentage of students who leave eighth grade at risk of not graduating from high school with a Standard or Advanced Studies diploma
- Pattern of increased attainment of advanced diplomas

- Pattern of increased number of high school students earning career and technical industry certifications, state licenses, or successful national occupational assessment credentials
- Increase in the percent of students taking the SATs
- Increase in the percent of minority students taking Advanced Placement/dual enrollment courses
- Increase in the number/percent of students involved in one or more extracurricular activities

Quantitative measures of student academic progress based on validated achievement measures that already are being used locally should be the first data considered when determining local progress measures; other measures are recommended for use when two valid and direct measures of student academic progress are not available.

Part V: Rating Principal Performance

The role of a principal requires a performance evaluation system that acknowledges the contextual nature and complexities of the job. For an evaluation system to be meaningful, it must provide its users with relevant and timely feedback. To facilitate this, evaluators should conduct both formative and summative evaluations of principals. While the superintendent has the ultimate responsibility for ensuring that the evaluation system is executed faithfully and effectively in the division, other division administrators may be designated by the evaluator to supervise, monitor, and assist with the multiple data source collection which will be used for these evaluations.

Interim Evaluation

An interim or annual review, especially for beginning principals, provides systematic feedback prior to the completion of a summative evaluation. The multiple data sources discussed in Part 3 are used to compile a Principal Interim/Annual Performance Report that indicates if a principal has shown evidence of each of the performance standards. The evaluator should share his or her assessment of the principal's performance by a given date (for example, the last school day before winter break). Please note that the Principal Interim/Annual Performance Report is used to document evidence of meeting the eight standards but does not include a rating of performance.

Summative Evaluation

Assessment of performance quality occurs only at the summative evaluation stage, which comes at the end of the evaluation cycle. The ratings for each performance standard are based on multiple data sources of information and are completed only after pertinent data from all sources are reviewed. The integration of data provides the evidence used to determine the performance ratings for the summative evaluations for all principals.

There are two major considerations in assessing job performance during summative evaluation: 1) the actual performance standards, and 2) how well they are performed.

Definitions of Ratings

Ratings are applied to the eight performance standards and as an overall summative rating, not to performance indicators.

Category	Description	Definition
Highly Effective	The principal performing at this level maintains performance, accomplishments, and behaviors that consistently and considerably surpass the established performance standard. This rating is reserved for performance that is truly exemplary and is done in a manner that exemplifies the school's mission and goals.	Highly effective performance: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • sustains high performance over a period of time • empowers teachers and students and consistently exhibits behaviors that have a strong positive impact on student learning and the school climate • serves as a role model to others
Effective	The principal consistently meets the performance standard in a manner that is aligned with the school's mission and goals.	Effective performance: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • meets the requirements contained in the performance standard • engages teachers and exhibits behaviors that have a positive impact on student learning and the school climate • demonstrates a willingness to learn and apply new skills
Approaching Effective	The principal's performance is inconsistent in meeting the established performance standard and/or working toward the school's mission and goals. The principal may be starting to exhibit desirable traits related to the standard but has not yet reached the full level of proficiency expected (i.e., developing) or the principal's performance is lacking in a particular area (i.e., needs improvement).	Approaching effective performance: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • requires support in meeting the performance standard • results in less than expected quality of student performance • leads to areas for principal improvement being jointly identified and planned between the principal and evaluator
Ineffective	The principal consistently performs below the established performance standard or in a manner that is inconsistent with the school's mission and goals.	Ineffective performance: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • does not meet the requirements contained in the performance standard • results in minimal student learning • may contribute to the employee not being recommended for continued employment

Performance Rubrics

The performance rubric is a behavioral summary scale that guides evaluators in assessing how well a standard is performed. It states the measure of performance expected of principals and provides a general description of performance at each level. In some instances, quantitative terms are included to augment the qualitative description. The resulting performance rubric provides a clearly delineated step-wise progression, along a continuum of effectiveness (as illustrated with arrows between the two levels). Each level is intended to be qualitatively superior to all lower levels. Principals who earn a Highly Effective rating must meet the requirements for the Effective level and go beyond it. Performance rubrics are provided to increase reliability among evaluators and to help principals focus on ways to enhance their leadership practices. The rating of “Effective” is the expected level of performance and is written as the actual performance standard.

The principal's leadership serves as a role model to others and results in a high level of student academic progress with all populations of learners.	The principal's leadership results in acceptable, measurable, and appropriate student academic progress based on established standards.	The principal's leadership results in student academic progress that inconsistently meets the established standard.	The principal's leadership consistently results in inadequate student academic progress.

Performance Rubrics and Summative Evaluation

Evaluators make judgments about performance of the eight performance standards based on all available evidence. After collecting information gathered through multiple data sources, the evaluator applies the four-level rating scale to evaluate a principal's performance on all standards for the summative evaluation. Therefore, the summative evaluation represents where the "preponderance of evidence" exists, based on various data sources. A sample Principal Summative Performance Report is provided later in this document. The results of the evaluation must be discussed with the principal at a summative evaluation conference.

Summative evaluations should be completed in compliance with the Code of Virginia and school division policy.

Summative ratings apply the rating for each of the seven performance expectations.

In determining the final summative rating, the following approach will be used:

1. Numbers will be applied to the rating scale:
Highly Effective = 4
Effective = 3
Approaching Effective = 2
Ineffective = 1;
2. The weighted contribution of each standard of the summative evaluation will be calculated; and
3. The weighted contributions will be added to calculate the summative rating.

Principal performance standard weights and performance level rating score ranges appear on the right.

Teacher Performance Standard	Weight
Standard 1	1.25
Standard 2	1.25
Standard 3	1.25
Standard 4	1.25
Standard 5	1.25
Standard 6	1.25
Standard 7	1.25
Standard 8	1.25

Performance Level Rating	Score Range
Highly Effective	35-40
Effective	26-34
Approaching Effective	20-25
Ineffective	10-19

Part VI: Improving Principal Performance

Supporting principals is essential to the success of schools. Many resources are needed to assist principals in growing professionally. Sometimes additional support is required to help principals develop so that they can meet the performance standards for their school.

There are three tools that may be used at the discretion of the evaluator. The first is the Support Dialogue, a school-level discussion between the evaluator and the principal. It is an optional process to promote conversation about performance in order to address specific needs or desired areas for professional growth. The second is the Plan for Growth which has a more formal structure and is used for notifying a principal of performance that requires improvement due to less-than-proficient performance. The third is the Performance Improvement Plan, which is formally assigned as a result of a finding by the Performance Review Board (PRB) process that the principal has failed to improve his or her performance when given multiple opportunities to do so. Like the Plan for Growth, this plan requires improvement due to less-than-proficient performance.

The tools may be used independently of each other. Figure 6.1 highlights key differences between the processes.

Support Dialogue

The Support Dialogue is initiated by evaluators or principals at any point during the school year for use with personnel whose professional practice would benefit from additional support. It is designed to facilitate discussion about the area(s) of concern and ways to address those concerns. The Support Dialogue process should not be construed as applying to poor performing principals. The option for a Support Dialogue is open to any principal who desires assistance in a particular area.

During the initial conference, both parties share what each will do to support the principal's growth (see sample prompts in Figure 6.2) and decide when to meet again. To facilitate the improvements, they may choose to fill out the optional Support Dialogue Form on the following page. After the agreed-upon time to receive support and implement changes in professional practice has elapsed, the evaluator and principal meet again to discuss the impact of the changes.

Sample Prompts for the Initial Conversation

What challenges have you encountered in addressing _____ (tell specific concern)?

What have you tried to address the concern of _____ (tell specific concern)?

What support can I or others in the division provide you?

Sample Prompts for the Follow-Up Conversation

Last time we met, we talked about _____ (tell specific concern). What has gone well?

What has not gone as well?

The entire Support Dialogue process is intended to be completed in a relatively short time period (for example, within a six-week period) as it offers targeted support. If the Support Dialogue was initiated by a principal seeking self-improvement, the evaluator and the principal may decide at any time either to conclude the process or to continue the support and allocate additional time or resources.

For principals for whom the evaluator initiated the Support Dialogue, the desired outcome would be that the principal's practice has improved to a proficient level. In the event that improvements in performance are still needed, the evaluator makes a determination either to extend the time of the Support Dialogue because progress has been made, or to allocate additional time or resources. If the necessary improvement is not made, the employee must be placed on a Performance Improvement Plan. Once placed on a Performance Improvement Plan the employee will have a specified time period (for example, 90 calendar days) to demonstrate that the identified deficiencies have been corrected.

Plan for Growth and Performance Improvement Plan

If a principal's performance does not meet the expectations established by the school division, the principal will be placed on a Plan for Growth or Performance Improvement Plan. A Plan for Growth or Performance Improvement Plan is designed to support a principal in addressing areas of concern through targeted supervision and additional resources. It may be used by an evaluator at any point during the year for a principal whose professional practice would benefit from additional support. Additionally, a Plan for Growth or Performance Improvement Plan is implemented if one of the following scenarios occurs at the end of any data collection period:

- a principal receives two or more "Not Evident" ratings at the interim review;
- a rating of "Approaching Effective" on two or more performance standards; or
- a rating of "Ineffective" on one or more performance standards or an overall rating of "Ineffective."

When a principal is placed on a Plan for Growth or Performance Improvement Plan, the evaluator must:

- provide written notification to the principal of the area(s) of concern that need(s) to be addressed;
- formulate a Performance Improvement Plan in conjunction with the principal; and
- review the results of the Performance Improvement Plan with the principal within established timelines.

Assistance may include:

- support from a professional peer or supervisor;
- conferences, classes, and workshops on specific topics; and/or
- other resources to be identified.

Prior to the evaluator making a final recommendation, the evaluator meets with the principal to review progress made on the Plan for Growth or Performance Improvement Plan, according to the timeline. The options for a final recommendation include:

- Sufficient improvement has been achieved; the principal is no longer on a Plan for Growth or Performance Improvement Plan and is rated "Proficient."

- Partial improvement has been achieved but more improvement is needed; the principal remains on a Plan for Growth or Performance Improvement Plan and is rated “Developing/Needs Improvement.”
- Little or no improvement has been achieved; the principal is rated “Unacceptable.”

When a principal is rated “Unacceptable,” the teacher may be recommended for dismissal. If not dismissed, a new Performance Improvement Plan will be implemented.

The principal may request a review of the evidence in relation to an “Unacceptable” rating received on a Summative Evaluation or, as a result of a Performance Improvement Plan, in accordance with the policies and procedures of the school division.
