Quakers Political Cartoon

Your task: Create a cartoon that effectively portrays the Quakers in comparison to another established colonial religion (ie, Anglicanism or Puritanism). You may use the documents provided for information, as well as outside research:

1) Create a political cartoon. You can either take the position of being biased (“pro” one side, “anti” another), neutral (showing the differences from an impartial standpoint), or neutrally critical (perhaps making fun of them both, like many cartoonists do today!).
   - Your cartoon MUST in some way reference the political, social, and economic differences associated with each religion.
   - Your cartoon MUST be hand-drawn, include colored illustrations and be on 8x10 white paper.

2) In the space provided on the back of this paper, write a reflection that explains the message of your political cartoon and demonstrates your knowledge of these religions (at least 2 paragraphs).

You will be graded on completeness, effort, and neatness. This will be worth 20 points (with a possible additional 5 points for exceptional work), due March 26 (even)/March 27 (odd).

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Category</th>
<th>5</th>
<th>4</th>
<th>3</th>
<th>2</th>
<th>1</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Reflection completeness</td>
<td>Completion exceeds expectations.</td>
<td>Completed according to instructions.</td>
<td>Completed with only minor omissions.</td>
<td>Reflection is rushed/vague.</td>
<td>Unacceptable.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Completeness</td>
<td>The political cartoon meets and exceeds all the requirements of the assignment.</td>
<td>The political cartoon meets all expectations.</td>
<td>The political cartoon is missing one component.</td>
<td>The political cartoon is missing 2 components.</td>
<td>The political cartoon is not reflective of the criteria.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Political Cartoon</td>
<td>X2</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Effort/Neatness</td>
<td>Work is neat; student obviously invested much effort.</td>
<td>Work is acceptably neat; student obviously invested much effort.</td>
<td>Work and effort is satisfactory.</td>
<td>Work is messy and/or the assignment seems rushed.</td>
<td>The effort towards this work is unsatisfactory. And/or, cartoon is not hand-drawn.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Total _______/20
Part II: Reflection

Write at least two complete paragraphs reflecting on your political cartoon. For example, what is it showing? What message is it sending? What is the bias? Why did you choose to portray what you did?

____________________________________________________________________________________
____________________________________________________________________________________
____________________________________________________________________________________
____________________________________________________________________________________
____________________________________________________________________________________
____________________________________________________________________________________
____________________________________________________________________________________
____________________________________________________________________________________
____________________________________________________________________________________
____________________________________________________________________________________
____________________________________________________________________________________
____________________________________________________________________________________